“It’s refreshing to hear that what I believe to be the most important element in popular music – i.e. melody – never gives way to fancy production, self-indulgent arrangements or muso’s showing off. This album simply delivers great songs performed honestly and beautifully.”

“If you want an alternative to the Alex Lloyd’s and Pete Murray’s of the current Aussie music scene I encourage you to check out this debut album from an artist that you will definitely be hearing more from.”

- Anton Hagop (Record Producer/Engineer – Silverchair, Powderfinger, Will Smith)
